

Japan Foundation Seminar

Shining the Light on Corporate Behaviour: Codifying and Measuring Business Ethics

Simon Webley,
Research Director
Institute of Business Ethics

September 29th, 2011

Introduction

• About the IBE

- established 1987 to encourage high standards of business behavior based on ethical values.

- Advisory
- Research
- Publications
- Training
- Forums
- Education

www.ibe.org.uk

What is business ethics?

It is about behaviour when there is discretion.

IBE definition is ...

...the application of ethical values
to business behaviour.

Context:

The public's view of Corporate Conduct

Some Sample Headlines:

Sony BMG admits to bribing radio stations to play its artists

Big business still dodging the tax
issue

Indian call centre 'fraud' probe

Doctor accuses drugs giant of
'unethical' secrecy

Rogue trader strikes USB

Profit and the price of life -
Row over pushchair
safety risks

US blueberry farms accused of using children as pickers

Drug firm bosses face
court over fraud claims

Ryanair 'bullies' staff who let flyers
share bag limit:

UK Public Opinion

“Do you generally trust the following to tell the truth?”

Base: c.1,000-2,000 British Adults Aged 15+, most recent fieldwork 10-16 June 2011, base 1,026
Source: Ipsos MORI/British Medical Association

The Reaction of Companies

To develop within their organisations, a culture of integrity

Values and Ethics

- All businesses operate on the basis of core values – implicit or explicit.
- These include business values and ethical values.

Identifying company values

How do companies implement ethics polices?

So, the primary aim of any ethics policy or programme is to:

Embed the values of an organisation to produce a culture of integrity throughout it.

What are the integrity risks most likely to be encountered?

What do companies say they are most concerned about?

	2010	2007
Bribery, corruption and facilitation payments	83% (1)	79% (3)
Discrimination, harassment or bullying	83% (1)	75% (5)
Speaking up/whistleblowing	83% (1)	79% (3)
Security of information	78% (4)	72% (6)
Environmental impact	76% (5)	81% (1)
Safety and security	74% (6)	81% (1)
Supply chain/sourcing	72% (7)	70% (7)
Managing conflicts of interest	70% (8)	66% (8)

What do the general public think needs addressing?

	2010	2007
Executive pay	35%	25%
Employees being able to speak out about company wrongdoing	24%	27%
Sweatshop labour	23%	27%
Environmental responsibility	23%	26%
Discrimination in treatment of people	20%	32%
Harassment and bullying in the workplace	19%	30%
Openness with information	17%	16%

It is worth noting that 'bribery and corruption' fell in importance with only 11% of the public identifying it as an important issue compared to 19% in 2007.

© IBE

2
9
%

Source: Ipsos-MORI poll for IBE

Here are some of the more common risks that need to be addressed:

- Unethical or fraudulent behaviour
- Taking 'short cuts' in for instance, health and safety
- Not declaring a potential conflict of interest
- Paying bribes of any sort
- Accepting high value gifts and hospitality

Raising concerns about ethical matters

- Towards an open culture
- Means of raising issues
- When to speak up
- Supporting those who raise issues

Definitions

- Whistleblowing can have a negative connotation
- Speak Up Procedures These are means to prevent illegal, corrupt, dangerous or unethical practices in an organisation through the provision of mechanisms which allow staff (and others) to report malpractice to the organisation or a third party

Supporting employees who “speak up”

- IBE research has found that one in four employees are aware of misconduct in their organisation, but only about half of those report it
- You want them to report a concern before blowing the whistle (outside)

What about cSr?

Some key points

- Behaving ethically makes business sense
- Having a ethics policy is an indication of good corporate governance
- Board support and involvement are crucial
- There is no one policy or code that suits all organisations
- Having a code is necessary but not sufficient for ethics to be taken seriously

Some key points (cont.)

- Training should be continuous
- Advice should be available
- Help lines are useful
- Gimmicks have their place
- Sticks and carrots help

EVERYONE IS RESPONSIBLE

Thank you

www.ibe.org.uk